

Landscape (Male; father/husband)

Still trying to get that yard into shape?

Enough is enough, I say! A real man isn't afraid of asking for a little help, is he?

Well, I know when I called Landscape 911, they helped me out of a real bind.

You see, my in-laws were coming from overseas and were expecting to see a garden paradise.

With weeds everywhere, yellow grass and a lump of who knows what in the corner, I needed help, and fast.

Because it was an 'emergency' as they called it, they arrived almost immediately with a crew that would've impressed Napoleon.

Needless to say, calling Landscape 911 saved my yard, my skin, and probably my marriage.

Check'em out at www.website.com.

Landscape 911, 'cause you never know when you'll need them.